Society handle the publicity? Perhaps the following statement (or one similar to it) can be included in the publicity about these presentations: "The general public is invited, but since the number of seats is limited, priority will be given to the residents of the high rises."

Does the Housing Authority have a 16-mm. sound projector that can be used for both presentations? How about a slide projector and screen?

Sincerely yours,

S. Robert Powell